

EM STRASBOURG IS RECRUITING

Each year, to support its ongoing development, EM Strasbourg Business School creates additional positions.

In September 2022, seven contract assistant or associate professor positions will be available in management science. Expertise in one of the following areas would be an asset: accounting/control/corporate finance, marketing/digital marketing/sales, strategy/entrepreneurship/organization

By joining us, you will be choosing a business school that places research at the forefront by virtue of its two prominent research centers, HuManiS and LaRGE, specialized in management and finance respectively.

At EM Strasbourg, academic freedom is strictly observed and guaranteed for faculty thanks to flexible work schedules, pedagogical freedom, and an everyday environment oriented toward research.

Moreover, affiliated with the University of Strasbourg, our business school offers a particularly conducive environment for the development of interdisciplinary research.

Situated in the heart of Strasbourg—a European, student, and cultural capital and city of humanistic traditions committed to innovation and respect for the environment—EM Strasbourg also promises an exceptional working environment.

YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES

Teaching:

- Full-time, part-time, and cooperative education to French and foreign students
- 128 teaching hours per year with the possibility of additional hours

Research:

- Active participation in research activities as a member of one of the two research centers, HuManiS or LaRGE
- Bonuses for academic publications (articles/books)

Other paid activities:

- Supervision of interns
- Participation in admission boards
- Pedagogical or administrative responsibilities
- Specific responsibilities/projects assigned by School administration

YOUR PROFILE

Basic requirements:

- PhD in management science (dissertation must be defended before Jun. 30, 2022, and any defense pre-reports must be provided at the interview)
- Ability to teach in French and English
- High potential for publication in national and international academic journals
- Willingness to coordinate full-time or part-time degrees/specializations, such as a master's degree, MBA, or equivalent, offered by the School

Assets:

- Interest in innovative teaching methods
- Ability to teach in a third language
- Expertise in accounting/control/corporate finance, marketing/digital marketing/sales, supply chain management/purchasing, management/human resources, or strategy/entrepreneurship/project management

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

Candidates are asked to submit a cover letter and résumé (mentioning the email addresses of two references).

APPLICATIONS

Apply online via the following link: <https://urlz.fr/hwSn>

Deadline: March 31, 2022

EM Strasbourg faculty are welcomed within two research centers: LaRGE and HuManiS.

LaRGE is directed by Professor Laurent Weill and focuses on four priority research areas in finance: banking, behavioral finance, corporate finance, public finance.

<http://large.em-strasbourg.eu/>

HuManiS is directed by Professor Sébastien Point and focuses on three key research areas: global talent management and social responsibilities, marketing and digitalization, entrepreneurship and management of change.

<http://humanis.em-strasbourg.eu/>

Key Figures in 2021

- 65 articles published in peer-reviewed journals
- 4 research books
- 15 chapters in research books
- 4 case studies
- 4 PhD dissertations

EM Strasbourg: A Unique Model

- 5 main programs (Bachelor's, Programme Grande Ecole, Master's, PhD, Executive Education)
- 3,600 students, 98 faculty, 120 administrative staff, 450 adjunct lecturers (corporate executives)
- 2,000 partner companies and 200 EM Strasbourg Business Club member companies
- 240+ university exchange agreements in 52 countries